ST. LAWRENCE COLLEGE

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE origin of this Institution may be traced back to the establishment of the Order of Capuchins in this country. In September, 1856, the Very Rev. Fr. Francis Haas, O. M. Cap , and Rev. Fr. Bonaventure Frey, O. M. Cap., the founders of the Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order, were offered by the Rt. Rev. John Martin Henni, then bishop of Milwaukee, as a site for the erection of their first monastery, either Mt. Calvary or the Holy Hill or St. Lawrence. They selected Mt. Calvary, then called St. Nicolas, for which Bishop Henni had himself expressed especial predilection, as the locality most suitable for their purpose, and in the following spring erected the choir and east wing of the monastery aside of the little log church, which then graced the spot.

As a matter of course provision was made for the reception and education of postulants for the Order. But one of the most trying of the many difficulties the zealous founders had to contend with was the dearth of vocations to religious life, in particular to their Order, whose rule and characteristic features were not yet known.

To increase their usefulnes, therefore, the venerable Fathers concluded, in 1861, to open the Convent Latin School to such young men also as wished to study for the priesthood among the secular clergy. During that year only four students applied for admission, and the little monastery building sufficed to shelter the limited number of students until 1864, when the east wing of the monastery was extended and the College inaugurated by the most Rev. Fr. General on August 4, of the same year, under the patronage of St. Lawrence of Brundusium. Rev. Ivo Prass, O. M. Cap., was appointed its first Rector

Two years later another addition became imperative and the south wing was added. But poverty permitted only a frame structure veneered with brick, the funds for which were collected, for the greater part, during the vacation months, by Fr. Ivo, who, in his humble Capuchin garb, traveled through several large cities of the East, appealing in his persuasive manner to the charity of the faithful for the benefit of his "little college in the wild West."

The Institution was gaining a firm footing in slow but healthy growth. The number of students had reached 42 when, on the night of December 26, 1868, the Monastery and College were entirely destroyed by fire, the church alone being saved from the flames.

This calamity might have been the closing chapter in the history of St. Lawrence College, as the poverty of the Fathers had permitted only a very slender insurance of the buildings and a considerable debt remained unpaid. There were other difficulties which seemed to make the re-establishment of the monastery impracticable at Mt. Calvary. After mature deliberation, however, Fr. Francis concluded to rebuild the Monastery and College on the spot which had become so dear to him and his brethren.

The students returned in 1870 and took possession of more substantial and more practical buildings. Fr. Didacus Wendl, O M. Cap., succeeded Fr. Ivo as Rector of the College. In 1872 St. Joseph's Hall was erected, which offered room for dramatical and literary entertainments, a study hall and a spacious dormitory. In 1873 other buildings were erected to accommodate the increasing number of students. These buildings contained a more roomy study hall, a dormitory and lavatory.

In September, 1874, Fr. Didacus was succeeded by Fr. Maurice Hens, O. M. Cap , who in turn was followed in office by Fr. Aegidius Halsband, O. M. Cap., in 1878, and Fr. Alphonse Baeumle, O. M. Cap., in 1883. During their administration the College continued to prosper, and gained a recognized position among the institutions of learning in the Northwest.

The present main building of the College was reared in 1882 and dedicated by Archbishop Heiss in the presence of Bishops Vertin, Dwenger and Krautbauer, and a great number of priests.

An artesian well, 1340 feet deep, which was sunk in 1889, contributed largely to the improvement of the College by furnishing an abundant supply for a complete system of water works.

The gem of the buildings clustering around the monastery is the beautiful chapel erected in 1893 for the greater convenience of the students, who until then had been obliged to attend divine services at the parish church adjoining the monastery. Services can now be held at a more convenient hour, the devotions and exhortations can be better adapted to the spiritual wants of the students and personal piety more effectively promoted.

Suitable alterations have been made in St. Joseph's Hall during 1894 to accommodate a still larger number of students.

In the Provincial Chapter, August, 1897, Fr Alphonse, who during the preceding 15 years had been the zealous and competent Rector, was entrusted by his superiors with the Guardianate of St. Francis Monastery, Milwaukee, and Fr. Antonine Wilmer placed at the head of the Laurentianum. At the same time the teaching staff was increased, which enabled the instructors to do more efficient and thorough work.

During the past year the improvements announced in the last issue of the catalogue have been successfully completed

A new hall 95x45 feet has been erected by Julius Ley of Fond du Lac, for musical, dramatical and literary entertainments. The stage has been most practically arranged by H. Hoffmann of Appleton. The artistic scenery and curtains are the work of H. Gaertner of Milwaukee. Two bowling alleys have been laid in the basement of the new hall to afford students healthy exercise, when out-door sport is impracticable. The gymnasium, when equipped, will permit further physical culture.

A 200-light Detroit Gas Machine furnishes abundant light for the various appartments, Welsbach burners being used wherever brilliant light is desirable.

Over the artesian well a new solid pump-house has been erected and furnished with a new 35 horse power boiler, steel tanks and a steam pump of most improved construction.

The museum has been equipped with 9 hard-wood wall-cases and has received interesting additions.

Shade trees have been planted to make the groves surrounding the college more dense and inviting after the confinement in the study hall and recitation room.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Name.—This Institution stands under the patronage of St. Lawrence of Brundusium, an illustrious saint of the Capuchin Order, whose highly interesting life offers many exquisite traits which make him appear an inspiring exemplar and powerful intercessor of the studious youth.

Object.—Its primary object is the instruction and training of young men conformably to strict Catholic principles with a view to prepare them for the holy priesthood. But the College embraces also a thorough and practical business course, to qualify the Catholic youth for lucrative positions in the commercial world.

Location.– St. Lawrence College enjoys a very healthful location, 600 ft above Lake Michigan, and 400 feet above Lake Winnebago, only a few miles distant. It is 12 miles east of Fond du Lac and 1½ miles from Calvary Station on the Chicago and Northwestern R. R. It is sufficiently elevated to enjoy a bracing atmosphere, at the same time sufficiently remote from the chilling vapors of the lake. In its lofty location it commands a pleasing view of one of the most fertile and best cultivated sections of Wisconsin. The surrounding grounds have been attractively improved to make Mt. Calvary a quiet, secluded, pleasant retreat for the lover of study.

Accessibility. — Mt. Calvary is a small village one mile and a half from Calvary, a station on the Fond du Lac and Sheboygan branch of the Chicago and Northwestern R. R. Connections are made at Fond du Lac with the main line of the C. & N. W , the C. M. & St. P. and the Wisconsin Central roads, at Plymouth with the Milwaukee Northern. During the summer months, until about the 25th of Sept. there are three trains daily from Fond du Lac or Sheboygan. A conveyance to the College can easily be procured at the Station.

The Buildings. The church with the monastery are brick structures forming a large quadrangle. In the south wing of the latter are the kitchen and refectory for the students. The main building of the College is a massive edifice with a basement and four stories, containing study halls, dormitories, recitation rooms, recreation rooms, etc. St. Joseph's Hall contains a spacious dormitory, several rooms for piano practice and rehearsals, as well as a trunk room. The new Hall is devoted to literary assemblies, dramatical and musical entertainments and gymnastic exercises. A beautiful chapel has been erected at great cost for the exclusive use of the students. It is furnished with artistic altars, numerous statues and tasty decorations.

Methods of Teaching. The success of our educational work is secured by the uniformity of method in the teaching of all the instructors, who in regular conferences deliberate on the methods most natural, thorough and effective for the advancement of the student in the various branches of study, and faithfully adhere to the adopted methods of the institution.

Discipline. For the maintenance of order reasonably strict regulations are necessary. The students are under the constant supervision of the Rev. Father Prefect, or his assistants; but obedience to the rules is enforced more by moral motives than severe methods. The Rector reserves the right to dismiss any student, who, after repeated admonition, shows a character so doubtful as to require extraordinary supervision.

PROSPECTUS OF STUDIES.

The College comprises a Classical, Philosophical and Business Course.

The Classical Course covers a period of six years and embraces the study of Latin, Greek, English, German, French, Grammar, Composition, Rhetoric, Literature, History, Geography, the elements of Botany, Geology, Zoology, Physics and Rational Philosophy.

The Philosophical Course extends over two years. In the first year the Classics are completed with the Sixth Latin Class. Logic, General Metaphysics, Church History and Hebrew are added to the course. In the second year the course embraces Special Metaphysics, Natural Theology, Ethics, History of Philosophy, Hermeneutics, Church History, Natural Philosophy and Hebrew.

The Commercial Course may be completed in two years, or in a longer or shorter period according to the abilities of the student. The branches taught are: Bookkeeping and Business Routine, Penmanship, English Grammar and Composition, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Correspondence, Commercial Law, Geography, United States History.

Catechetical Instruction receives the most careful attention, as there can be no real education or effective moral training without it. This instruction is based upon the Catechism and Bible History in the first and second classes, upon the exposition of the ecclesiastical year in the third year, and upon the evidences of the Catholic Religion in the fourth and fifth.

Latin is taught in all grades of the Classical Course. German is the medium of instruction. English speaking students get the necessary assistance. Paramount attention is paid to Precepts and Practice and the memorizing of Paradigms. No amount of translation of the prose and poetical Models is specified, but much time is devoted to the analysis and remodeling of the selections from classical authors. Translations from German into Latin, several times a week, in all the grades, afford the student ample opportunity to appropriate the words and phrases upon which he has been drilled in reading the models.

Greek is taken up in the second year and continued throughout the course on the same plan as the Latin. Three hours being devoted to it each week.

English is taught in all its phases: Penmanship, Spelling, Grammar, Composition, Rhetoric and Literature. Although the students are almost exclusively of German descent, the study of the English Language is by no means neglected, but receives all the attention due to its prime importance as the language of our country.

German is obligatory in the Classical Course. It was hitherto optional in the Commercial Course. In view, however, of its essential value as an accomplishment and its positive benefit in active business life, it will henceforth be obligatory in every Course. The study of German includes Penmanship, Etymology, Syntax, Composition, Rhetoric, Poetry, Literature. A special feature of the institution is that many important branches are taught in German and that the students make extensive use of German in their conversations. Prayers and exhortations as well as table reading are alternately German and English.

French is optional to students of the third year and higher classes.

Hebrew is obligatory in the Philosophical Course.

Arithmetic is one of the foremost branches in the first and second year classes, Algebra in the third and fourth, Geometry in the fourth and fifth.

History is taken up in the first class. Bible History and United States History furnishing the texts for the first and second classes, Universal History in the third, fourth and fifth. Mythology, as an aid for the better understanding of the classics, is treated in the fourth class, in which Latin Poetry is first introduced.

Geography is treated as supplementary to History and as a prolific source of culture in the first and second classes.

Sciences have been taught in the departments of Botany, Zoology, Geology and Physics.

The Commercial Course is arranged to agree as much as practical with the Classical Course, to enable students of the former to attend the Classes of the latter.

CHRONICLE.

1898.

Sept. 7.—At 8:00 p. m. the College Rules were read in the chapel.

Sept. 8.—At 6:00 a. m. Formal Opening. Solemn Mass celebrated by the Rector, assisted by Fr. Prefect and Fr. Fidelis Veni Creator. Benediction. 116 students attended. 8:00 a. m. Classes resumed.

Oct. 10.—The annual Retreat opened, conducted by Rev. Fr. Hieronymus Henkel, O. M. Cap., for the students and by the V. Rev. Fr. Provincial for the monastery.

Oct. 24.—After a protracted rainy season the sun sent forth its gladdening rays, inviting to a walk, which was cheerfully granted by the Rector. St. Peter's was reached before the distance was noticed. The joyous spirits of the students on the return bespoke the invigorating effect of the long promenade.

Nov. 17.—Once more, before the winter set in, the strains of the College Band led on a good long walk. An excursion was made to St. John's and heartily enjoyed.

Nov. 24.—On Thanksgiving Day High Mass was sung by the Rector. In the afternoon an appropriate dramatical and musical programme was rendered in the new hall.

Nov. 29.—Very Rev Fr. Abbelen, of Milwaukee, honored us with a welcome visit.

Dec. 20.—At 7:00 p. m. the students invited the professors to the entertainment hall to tender them, in speech and song, their Christmas Greetings, before leaving for their short vacation. The Rector responded, assuring them of the heartiest good wishes of the Faculty, and bade them bring joy and happiness to their homes.

Dec. 21.—Christmas vacation began.

Christmas vacation at College will be most agreeably remembered by those whom circumstances did not permit to visit their homes. The Christmas Carols of the Junior Choir around the illuminated Christmas Tree, the impressive Midnight

Services, the merry evening entertainments, have made these days, even away from home, a joyous, happy season.
